Foreword

Memories of past years of Oak Hill linger in our minds as we Seniors of '50 complete our school days here. These many happy days have been filled with work, play, joys, sorrows, laughter and tears.

Through many hours of toil the Oak Log Staff has tried to bring back a few of these memories. If we have accomplished this, then our time has been well spent. As each time you turn a page, may it bring to you a new and pleasant memory.

To Our Parents

For their understanding and loving guidance, encouragement toward better things of life, and determination to make good citizens of their own children, not selfishly but for the benefit of the future generations, we, the Senior Class of 1950, dedicate this, the fifth edition of The Oak Log.

Class Poem

The time has come O Senior Class
That we must bid adieu
To joys and sorrows of the past
And face a life anew.

Now as we leave these halls, we cry
"Farewell" - for now we part;
But our memories will linger on
In every mind and heart.

We have grown and have endeavored
To learn all we could
For hard our teachers have labored
To teach us all they should.

We part with no misgivings;
Each must answer his call.
To the future we look forward
And seek to give our all.

Senior Prophecy

The temperature is about ninety degrees on this hot July day. I'm lying under an apple tree trying to read when the words start blurring and I gradually slip into that strange world of dreams. The time is 1960, and who are those people? None other than the Oak Hill Senior class of 1950.

Doesn't he look familiar? Why, yes, Jimmy Reid, supervising the loading of the milk trucks from his dairyfarm, which he has taken over from his father.

Goodness! Now I'm in Boston and in front of the Holsclaw and Livingston Cosmetic Salon. Aren't those names familiar? They are none other than Carolyn and Maxine, two old maids still hopefully waiting, who now have a very profitable business.

Drifting along, my attention is drawn to Texas Tech University. Doesn't that physical education instructor on the basketball court bring back memories? Surely! He's Dwight Haigler. Sitting on the side lines is his old flame, and beside her two little red heads. You might have known.

Now riding to the west coast. Sitting in the M. G. M. studio are Mae Woods and Roger Hennessee, now on their way to Stardom. Didn't think they'd make it but time will prove all things.

Annie Mae Sanders and her former bachelor boss man have made their decision after ten years. "Wedding Bells!"

They say out of each class comes a famous person. Who could this be but Sturgis Miller, an architect, now working on the plans to rebuild the Parthenon, which Russia destroyed.

In a cozy little hut I see Mrs. Byrd Branch, the former Miss Shirley Sherrill. Outside I see two little Branches, (not streams) running around.

I see Ann Teague, now married, coming out the front door. There's a stack of dirty dishes in the sink but she's not worried. He'll do them when he gets home.

Who is it gliding along in the 1960 Chevrolet? Oh! There's two! It's finally love. Who is the lad? Jim Swanson.

Who could that be sitting in the office of Hickory Packing Co? Odessa Bolick for sure. Neither she nor the boss is married.

On the Charlotte Air Field a plane is landing. Who is the gallant stewardess who kept order in the plane enroute from England? None other than Ruth Bowman.

The girl entertaining the soldiers at the Stage Door Canteen with her musical talent has a familiar face. It's Joan Spencer and she's really very good at the keyboard.

The old maid dancing instructor? Definitely it couldn't be any one else but Dottie Sears. Just look at the rock on her finger. She won't be an old maid long.

Whose husband was that hollering, "Where's my supper?" It's Hillian, but I'd never have thought she would make him wait. She's saying, "Cook, wash dishes, iron, sweep! Advice--Stay Single."

Remember Bertha's being voted most intelligent in High School? She really filled her position. She's now a doctor of foreign languages in the University of California.

The world is turning round and round! What's happened? Oh! only a dream! But what a dream can tell! I'm sure that happy times will fill the lives of these seniors. They deserve it.

Class History

The history of the class of '50 began in the fall of 1936. We traveled two different paths until the fall of 1943 when students from Dudley Shoals School joined our class here at Oak Hill, making an enrollment of 41 in the 8th grade. Thus we began our school years together. Eighth grade graduation marked the great change between grammar grade and high school life.

The experiences of high school were very different and exciting to us. Then considered old enough, we joined various clubs and ball teams, were allowed to attend parties and dances, and felt quite grown up. Along with all this, we realized that our school years would mean harder work if we were to prepare for a good life to come. There were five who chose not to continue with us, but to follow various ways of their own. Miss Martha Miller was our leader this first year of high school. The next year we lost the greatest number, 13, whose chosen vocations were either marriage or public work. Even though our enrollment continued to decline, we enjoyed this year of hard work and good times, sponsored by Mr. Hugh Reavis. During our third year of high school we realized that we must work harder than ever to accomplish what was expected of a Junior Class. One of the most exciting incidents of this year was the arrival of our class rings. Their attractive red and black stones called for many comparisons and many exclamations such as "Mine is the prettier". We gave dances in the gymnasium and presented a play, "The Ready Made Family", in order to finance the Junior-Senior Banquet. This was our first taste of "formality". With Mrs. U. D. Pitts guiding us, we made this banquet an occasion never to be forgotten. When we met in the fall of 1949, there were only seventeen left to travel the last mile of school as seniors. Each of us were determined to make this last year the best one of all, and now we realize that we have accomplished this. Mr. C. C. Huskins, our principal, taught us that honor comes from good behavior. This we accepted with young and willing hearts. Our first great task was to publish the annual which we did successfully. We then presented a play, "No Bride for the Groom", which was also a great success. As we approached the end of school, we glanced back upon all those things and gladly say that no class could have been a happier one than our class of '50. We are proud to say that we are among those who have graduated from Oak Hill School.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of Oak Hill, being near the end of our short life as Seniors, do hereby, without due process of law, and unsigned by proper authority, make out our last will and testament, that will be carried out as soon as our Senior life is gone.

First: We, the Senior Class of '50 will to the faculty of Oak Hill, our co-operativeness, perseverance, and democratic ways.

Second: We, the Senior Class of '50 will to the entire Jr. Class our ability to fool the teachers with our angelic ways.

Third: We, the Senior Class of '50 will to Oak Hill School the knowledge that its greatest group of students is leaving this year.

Fourth: We, the Seniors as individuals will to our subordinates, the following:

I, Odessa Bolick, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play an old woman to Linda Walsh.

I, Ruth Bowman, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to "shag" to Mildred Pennell.

I, Dwight Haigler, do hereby will and bequeath my good looks to Clarence Benefield.

I, Roger Hennessee, do hereby will and bequeath my witty ways to Thomas Land.

I, Carolyn Holsclaw, do hereby will and bequeath my attentiveness in class to Wanda Hart.

I, Bertha Laney, do hereby will and bequeath my intelligence to Katherine Lail.

I, Maxine Livingston, do hereby will and bequeath my neatness to Mildred Combs.

I, Sturgis Miller, do hereby will and bequeath my crooning ability to Fred Kirby.

I, Jimmy Reid, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to sleep in class to Bud Bush.

I, Annie Mae Sanders, do hereby will and bequeath my quietness to Hallie Kirby.

I, Dottie Sears, do hereby will and bequeath my popularity to Mattie Lou Phillips.

I, Shirley Branch, do hereby will and bequeath my stubborn and aggressive nature to Esther Moore.

I, Joan Spencer, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to type accurately to Bessie Kate Blair.

I, James Swanson, do hereby will and bequeath my driving ability to James Andrews.

I, Ann Teague, do hereby will and bequeath my sense of humor to Virginia Stafford.

I, Hillian White, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Editor of the Echo to Shirley Waters.

I, Mae Woods, do hereby will and bequeath my sweetness and charm to Betty Jo Burns.

The Oak Hill boys' basketball team had a wonderful season. The boys played good basketball and displayed excellent team work and good sportsmanship.

Mr. Otis C. Chapman coached the club and did a grand job. He and the boys worked diligently, and many night practice sessions were held. The team appreciates the many spectators who came out to see the boys put their all in the game, and this backing up gave them the courage to continue fighting and in some cases come out ahead when the odds were seemingly against them. The boys haven't put Oak Hill on the map yet, but just give them another year, because the ground work has been laid.
